Hello!

I'll be direct: hire, Harold (Trip) Reynolds!

I'm Beverly Johnson, a seasoned human resource professional with over thirty-(30) years of robust subject matter expertise successfully conducting "high value" recruitment campaigns in legal search, acute health care, media relations, and other industries. Over fifteen-(15) years ago, while engaged in the aforementioned I happily encountered Trip.

On several occasions I've had the pleasure of working with Trip on various HR consulting and media relations campaigns, and he always delivers as expected, and with enthusiasm, creativity, and a willingness to put in whatever extra effort is necessary to achieve objectives! We mutually require such of each other, including conducting due diligence prior to launching projects, and a continuous commitment to professionalism. Given your commitment to due diligence, you'll find a plethora of examples of Trip's actual work product posted via his expanded online resume (reynos.com/bio.htm), which he created to enable you to validate his skills, knowledge, and subject matter expertise in all aspects of human capital management.

Of course, conduct your due diligence, then promptly hire Trip!

Sincerely,

Beverly
